

Kelet-Európa Tanulmányok

Studii Est Europeae

UNIVERSITY OF MUNICH
UNIVERSITY OF REGENSBURG

We teach
Eastern Europe skills

MASTER'S EAST EUROPEAN STUDIES

THE AIM OF THE GRADUATE PROGRAM is to teach regional competence for Central Eastern, South Eastern and Eastern Europe. Students learn to analyze developments and situations in Eastern Europe and place them in their respective political, social, legal, economic, historic and cultural contexts.

BESIDES SPECIALIST KNOWLEDGE and linguistic competence, the course furnishes students with the key skills they will later need in order to take up positions of responsibility in politics, culture, business and academics.

THE COURSES have an interdisciplinary and comparative character. In addition, you will be required to complete intensive language courses, a summer academy in Eastern Europe and work experience in a field which is relevant to Eastern Europe. The graduate program is part of the Elite Network of Bavaria.

WE ARE LOOKING FOR students with a proven interest in Eastern Europe who have already graduated with honors, have a basic knowledge of at least one East European language, speak German fluently and are proficient in English. We are also interested in learning how applicants are involved in social, community and political work.

CLOSING DATE FOR APPLICATIONS is June 14, 2018; the graduate program begins in the winter semester. The program lasts for four semesters.

CONTACT
Coordination of the Elite Graduate Program
for East European Studies
Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität München
Phone +49-89-21 80 54 79
E-mail osteuropastudien@lrz.uni-muenchen.de

SUBJECTS OFFERED IN MUNICH

- History of Eastern and South Eastern Europe
- Slavonic Studies
- Political Science
- European Ethnology
- Jewish History and Culture
- Turkish and Ottoman Studies
- General and Comparative Literature Studies

SUBJECTS OFFERED IN REGENSBURG

- Law
- Slavonic Studies
- Comparative Literature Studies
- History of South Eastern and Eastern Europe
- Economics

www.osteuropastudien.de